Program Outcomes for Construction Management

Learning Outcomes:
At the end of the program, the student should have possessed:

1) The basic knowledge of construction, engineering and science.
2) Technical competency in the discipline of construction, engineering and science.
3) The ability to identify problems and to solve them.
4) The ability to apply the knowledge gained from their studies, to problems with innovative and creative solutions.
5) Ability to evaluate an operation performance.
6) Ability to fulfill their responsibility in an ever-developing social, cultural, environmental, and global arena.
7) The ethics of professional and fiscal responsibility.
8) The ability to communicate with their professional peers and the community at large.
9) The ability to perform as an individual and contribute as a team member, with the ability to lead with management and entrepreneur skills.